ABSTRACT:

CHG DATE=19990617 STATUS=O>An automated retail terminal in which a plurality of goods and/or services are provided in an integrated system (40). The integrated system (40) generally avoids duplicating hardware or functions in the course of delivering the goods or services offered, so for example in a combination ATM and Internet kiosk the same credit card or smart card reader (48) is used for both the ATM and the Internet kiosk functions, the same control screen (42, 44) activates the ATM functions and the Internet functions, and etc.
